

44 years of Bill Gardner's failures could cost her life.

As Secretary of State, Bill Gardner has done nothing to make it safer to vote in New Hampshire. For many, that means having to show up in-person at their municipal clerk's office or track down a fax machine to vote absentee.

That puts our first in the nation status at risk.

And worse: today, it could make voting a life or death choice.

Ask Governor Sununu to do what Secretary of State Gardner won't: modernize our elections

BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE.
